High Performance
Healthcare Organizations

Innovative, Practical and Sustainable Transformation
for Healthcare Organization

Madinah, Saudi Arabia

Sat 6 – Thu 11 April 2019

Overview

Recent studies show that the healthcare sector is the most dynamic and ever-changing sector in Saudi Arabia when it comes to policies, regulations, technologies and healthcare providers. In order to optimize and integrate all services provided in the health sector; emerging leaders in healthcare sector should keep up to date with the regional & global trends and industry competitive skills. Also, they should learn the latest management concepts and tools that focus on transforming leaders into successful senior executives to lead the ambitious Saudi Vision 2030.

In this dynamic competitive era, visionary leaders are required to transform the health sector and deliver innovative solutions that meet the needs of the present and predict those of the future.

Today, the focus in healthcare sector is more specific towards facing industry main challenges; patient-centered care, improving clinical outcomes, implementing health digital technology solutions, product innovation and transformation. These challenges will require new strategies on the part of governments and private healthcare players who need to constantly redesign care processes in order to improve quality.

H.E. Dr. Tawfeek AlRabeah
Minister of Health, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

His Excellency; testimony about MILE previous program

I am very pleased to join this course, have learned a lot and found this course very interesting. The quality of the global speakers, participants and the interaction with them was a great help for me to learn more. The mix of program activities, case studies and Q&A has helped me in the arena of leadership and decision making . Having a great education in a great place like Madinah is the best one can hope for."
